

Jordan Rossi/Sofia G

Taylor Swift Website:

- Change the typefaces of each of the subheaders to match the same ones used on the titles of her albums
- Add another page for About Taylor Swift and include it in the navigation bar
- Change the leading photo for the albums page and try finding a photo that captures the colors of all the other albums – not folklore.
  - Try looking at 1989 (taylor's version) or midnights photoshoots, but it can be open to any photo (just not black and white)
- For the background, make it less white. Experiment with having a solid color background for each section or something to make it less boring I guess
  - This may involve changing the pictures selected for each album, but that is up to you on what works best
- Add headers to each page